AN ATHLETIC RALLY HELD

Great Enthusiasm Manifested at Meeting—College Yells
Rehearsed.

The Richmond College eleven practiced new plays for an hour yesterday behind closed gates. This was done in order that the teams might not be disturbed while at practice, and that a few new plays might be perfected. The secret practice has been found to be very satisfactory, and Coach Dunlap expressed himself as very well pleased at the end of the practice.

The object of the week's labor is to keep the men in good condition and to work out all old injuries received in former games. The practice have been fast and hard, and the men are kept on the jump all the time. They have developed remarkable speed and wind, and to the observer seem to be in almost perfect condition.

The practice yesterday, after the crowd was allowed to come into the enclosure, consisted of straight football and forward passes. The forward pass was, as usual, worked perfectly and good ground was gained.

After the regular work, the backs were put through a stiff half-hour of handling punts and running back from the kick-off. Gosh, who has almost recovered from the injury received in Saturday's game, was in place, and he and coach did most of the work. With these two the college need have no fear that the punts will not be handled properly.

Last of all, the two lines were put up against each other, and breaking through was tried. The first team put it all over the scrubs, and showed up stronger than ever before in this part of the work. A stiff run completed the afternoon's practice, and the men were rubbed down for the night.

Rally at College.
More enthusiasm is being shown over athletics than ever before in the history of Richmond College. Yesterday morning about two hours were devoted to an athletic rally. Almost every student and member of the faculty was present, Dr. Foushee presiding. The immediate object of the meeting was to arrange for the cup game next Saturday, when all the students, accompanied by a brass band, will march to the ball park to cheer their team to victory.

Dr. Foushee, in his address, requested to drill the boys in yells, songs, marches, etc. About 5 o'clock the students all assembled in the park and rehearsed the interesting program for Saturday.

Among those who spoke in the rally were Dr. Metcalf, of the department of English; President Bowditch and Coach Dunlap. Dr. Dickinson made a very thrilling address to the boys, saying, in part: "I am not physically an alumnus of Richmond College, yet I am in spirit. The deep sympathy and love that I hold for Richmond increases daily as I contemplate the clean, sportsman-like demeanor of her men and the indomitable grit of her team."

This simply brought down the house, and the meeting adjourned, everyone burning with love for his school and confident that the laurels next Saturday will fall not to Randolph-Macon, but to Richmond.

JUDGE MOORE WINS CUP FOR KEEPS

NEW YORK, November 21.—In the presence to-night of the largest attendance thus far, the annual exhibition of the horse show at Madison Square Garden, Forest King, Judge William H. Moore's champion gelding, carried off the Waldorf-Astoria cup. The coveted trophy thus becomes the absolute property of Judge Moore, Forest King having won in 1905 and 1906.

The demonstration on the part of the crowd when the judges announced their decision was almost unprecedented in the history of the Horse Show Association. The big crowd fairly roared its congratulations at the victorious horse and its driver-owner.

Forest King Cup.
After winning the cup, Judge Moore announced that he had offered the Horse Show Association a cup to be called the Forest King cup, to be competed for in the association's exhibition of 1907 and subsequent years, on the same terms as the Waldorf-Astoria. Forest King to be barred from competing.

The Waldorf-Astoria cup for the best horse suitable for gis, is valued at $3,000. It was won twice by Lord Brilliant, and in 1904, the year after Forest King's first victory, it went to Hildred, belonging to Eben D. Jordan, of Boston. There were a number of notable entries in final competition for the cup to-day.

Miss Guilla Morosini, noted as a horsewoman, had two entries. Glorious and Togo, both blue-ribbon winners. C. W. Watson, of Baltimore, had no less than four entries, including the splendid animal, Lord Baltimore, Alfred G. Vanderbilt had two entries, one the very much discussed Sunday night. This year the service is a combined one, instead of separate Thanksgiving services for each gender.

"Big Three" Hereafter.

PHILADELPHIA, November 21.—The situation might as well be faced manfully. Unless Ponca arranges a game yearly with Yale, Princeton or Harvard, it can no longer be regarded as a member of the "big four." In fact, the "big four" then shrinks into a "big three," with Pennsylvania out.

Sermon to Jr. O. U. A. M.

The several councils of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics located west of Third Street will listen to a special sermon at the Second Baptist church next Sunday night. This year the service is a combined one, instead of separate Thanksgiving services for each gender.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE AGREES ON NEW SCHEDULE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

FOOTBALL TEAM OF RICHMOND HIGH SCHOOL.

After two days of wrangling between the teams in the organization, it now seems as if the championship of the interscholastic league will be played and won according to the schedule set forth at the last meeting of the rules committee of the association. This schedule requires all the teams to play each other, giving each another chance for the championship.

On this schedule the High School protested. The managers of the team said that they had fought and won the championship by defeating McGuire's and tying the Academy, which was in turn defeated by McGuire's. They said the High School had all to lose by a new series of games and nothing to gain, and would not play if possible to refuse. It was also said that the Academy team had disbanded for the season.

Finally, it was arranged that all teams would play again. The Academy team got together once more and is working hard for a game with the High School Friday. The High School is also practicing for this game with the greatest enthusiasm, and will put up a good fight for the honors.

McGuire's School will play the team from St. Andrews today, on a game which has no bearing on the championship. It will also play the High School next Tuesday and the Academy the day after Thanksgiving.

After these games there will be no difficulty in picking the strongest team for the championship, and this will be awarded without any protests from teams which would have been cut out by the old schedule.

BIG PUSHBALL GAME AT THE SKATING KINK
The strong pushball team from the Petersburg skating rink will be in Richmond to-morrow night to try to lower the colors of the local team. In the match in Petersburg on Tuesday night, when the locals went over, the game was played to a standstill, neither side being able to score against the other during the twenty minutes of actual play. The contest on to-morrow night will doubtless prove interesting and at the same time furnish plenty of amusement for everybody.

Pushball is an old English game, and is generally played without skates. The ball to be used here on to-morrow night is the only one in the South, and playing the game on rollers adds much to the interest of the game, as well as creates a great deal of fun for the on-lookers. There will be new moving pictures, as well as music and other amusements, to add to the evening's pleasure, and a record-breaking attendance is expected. The Richmond team will probably be made up of Hirt, Newberry, Moore, Mack and Perkins, with Halsey as substitute. Petersburg will bring over Neal, Hughes, Matthews, Harrison and Fisher, with Wilson for a sub. Two halves of ten minutes each will be played, with an intermission of ten minutes.

Sensations Due.

NEW HAVEN, November 21.—It is certain that the Yale coaches will vary the style of play markedly in order to meet the Crimson, and more sensational are due at New Haven next Saturday. Yale may be beaten, but it will not be because there has been any lack of special preparation. The Yale coaches are due to other "systems," but none so elastic and resourceful as Yale's.

MISS GUILLAP. MOROSINI, WHO WON TWO BLUES LAST NIGHT

Miss Morosini is attracting much attention at the New York horse show, where she is considered one of the best dressed women in attendance, though she spends only $100.000 a year on her toilet.

MAYOR AWAITING REPLY TO LETTER

Printers and Employers Apparently Far Apart as to Strike Settlement.

Mayor McCarthy stated yesterday afternoon that he had not received, and probably would not receive until today, an answer to his letter to the Typographical and Printing Union, relative to the strike of printers in this city. Just what the answer of the employers will be cannot be foreseen further than what their expressed position with reference to the closed shop demand of the strikers may be regarded as indicating. The wage question is the only proposition which the strikers, through their organizer, agree to submit to arbitration, whereas both sides declare that their diametrically opposed position with reference to the closed shop offer little hope of a settlement, unless one side or the other recedes from the present stand.

The employers will certainly answer the Mayor's letter, and in this will state their attitude clearly and officially. The Central Trades and Labor Council has determined to contribute toward the complimentary performance to be given as a testimonial to the striking printers at the Academy, December 20. The printers contend that this entertainment was not asked for by them.

No Strike There.

The possibility of a strike of the puddlers employed at the plant of the old Dominion Iron and Nail Works is now regarded as past, it having been ascertained that the wage scale put on is the same as that prevailing in other similar plants.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 21.—Abraham Reuf did not appear in Judge Dunne's court to-day to answer to the indictments charging him with extorting money from French restaurants. Mayor Eugene H. At no time during the proceedings was Reuf's name uttered.
